REMOTE SKILLS · LEGAL

Terms and Conditions

How we work together, what you can expect from us and what we expect from you. We keep this deliberately readable. If you have a question, just ask.

Version 2.1 Last updated 28 September 2026

In short

A brief summary with no legal status. The articles below govern.

- Our programs are intended for entrepreneurs and people seriously building a business.
- You get access to software, content and guidance for as long as your participation runs. The software is not a stand-alone subscription.
- What we develop remains ours; what you create yourself remains yours.
- We continuously develop our programs and may improve or replace components.
- Results also depend on your own effort. We cannot guarantee any specific outcome.

ARTICLE 1

Applicability

These terms apply to all products, programs, software, training and services of Remote Skills. This includes our programs (such as AI Starter, AI Founder, AI Builder and the AI Alpha Mastermind), our platforms and software (including Founder OS and FullStack AI Studio, AI agents, CRM, funnels, websites, automations, dashboards, templates and workflows), our training, and our live activities such as workshops, masterminds, retreats and business events.

Where we offer additional services, such as consultancy, custom work or personal guidance, these terms also apply, unless we agree otherwise in writing. New products we develop later automatically fall under these terms, unless we expressly agree otherwise.

ARTICLE 2

Who our programs are for

We offer the Emigration Challenge completely free of charge. There is nothing for sale and you enter into no payment obligation.

AI Starter is our accessible trial program. Because it is primarily about exploring and getting acquainted, we treat AI Starter participants as consumers: statutory consumer rights fully apply to it.

Our other programs, such as AI Founder, AI Builder and the AI Alpha Mastermind, are aimed at business use. By participating you confirm that you act on behalf of your business, or with the concrete intention of starting one. Where mandatory law nevertheless grants consumer rights, those rights naturally continue to apply.

Minimum age. You can only purchase a paid program or product if you are 18 or older; you confirm this when you order and during your onboarding. Our free sign-ups (such as the Emigration Challenge and our free mini-courses) have a minimum age of 16. If it turns out that someone is younger, we may end their access and delete the related data; anything already paid will then be refunded.

ARTICLE 3

When an agreement is formed

An agreement is formed as soon as you register via our website, accept a quote, complete an order, pay an invoice, sign up via a payment link, receive a confirmation of participation, or gain access to one of our programs or platforms.

During the ordering process we ask you to agree to these terms and to the other legal documents that apply to your participation.

ARTICLE 4

How we work

Remote Skills is not a traditional online course. Depending on the program, we combine different components: knowledge, implementation, software, AI tools, templates, feedback, coaching, live sessions, Q&As, assignments and hands-on guidance.

Not every program contains the same components. What exactly is included in your participation depends on the program you choose and is stated on the relevant sales, quote or registration page.

ARTICLE 5

Our programs

Our services consist of different programs, each with its own goal, duration and content. The current content, prices and included components are always stated on the sales page, quote or registration page of that program.

AI Starter

Our 30-day entry program. You get to know our approach, software and methodology, work on your first AI plan and discover which direction suits you. Afterwards you can continue independently or move on to AI Founder. If you do not move on, your participation ends automatically and access to the components specific to AI Starter lapses.

AI Founder

Our implementation program. We guide you step by step in developing, building, testing and launching an AI-driven business. Depending on the chosen variant, the guidance consists of learning material, software, implementation assignments, feedback, Q&As, templates, AI tools and personal coaching. Content, duration and included components are communicated in advance.

AI Builder

For participants who want to scale further once the foundation is in place. The emphasis is on optimization, automation and growth. AI Builder is an annual program; payment in installments does not change the twelve-month duration.

AI Alpha Mastermind

For entrepreneurs who want to grow at a strategic level. This may consist of live mastermind days, knowledge sessions, retreats, private gatherings, guest speakers, business reviews and networking activities. Because we reserve venues and incur costs in advance, additional cancellation conditions apply, which we communicate clearly beforehand.

Because AI develops rapidly, we may improve, replace or expand parts of a program during its term. We always do so with the intention of raising quality, never lowering it. You cannot derive permanent rights from the exact content of an earlier version.

ARTICLE 6

Duration and renewal

Every participation has a duration agreed in advance. In principle we apply:

AI Starter	30 days
AI Founder	3 months, extendable with an additional period where offered
AI Builder	12 months
AI Alpha Mastermind	Announced in advance per edition

After expiry, the agreement ends automatically, unless we have agreed a renewal in writing in advance. Where a program can be renewed, we will let you know in good time. We do not work with tacit renewals, unless expressly agreed in advance.

ARTICLE 7

Results and collaboration

We do everything we can to guide you as well as possible, with knowledge, systems, software, feedback, strategy and implementation. The final result, however, also depends on factors we do not fully control: your effort, available time, execution, entrepreneurial skills, communication and market developments. We therefore cannot guarantee that every participant achieves the same results.

Examples, testimonials and client cases are meant as inspiration and never constitute a guarantee of future results.

A good collaboration requires effort from both sides. We expect you to participate actively, ask questions when you get stuck, keep agreements, communicate respectfully, share feedback in time, and give us the opportunity to think along when something goes differently than expected.

ARTICLE 8

Investment and payment

The investment for each program is communicated in advance via the website, quote or payment page. Payment can be made in one installment or, where we offer it, in installments. If you choose a payment plan, the total payment obligation remains in place for the full agreed duration.

The price stated on the payment page or quote is the price you pay. Whether and how tax (such as VAT) is calculated and displayed depends on your situation and applicable law; this is stated with the relevant offer.

ARTICLE 9

Software, platforms and accounts

Within our programs you receive access to one or more digital platforms of Remote Skills, including Founder OS and FullStack AI Studio. These platforms are an integral part of our services and are not offered as a stand-alone subscription.

Your access is personal, non-transferable and intended solely for your own business. You are responsible for your login credentials. Sharing your account, license or access with others is not permitted. If we find that an account is being shared or used in a way it is not intended for, we may temporarily block or terminate access.

Your access is linked to your active participation. If your program ends, or is not renewed, access to the software and associated platforms also ends, unless we have agreed otherwise in writing. You cannot derive permanent rights from previously granted access.

ARTICLE 10

Changes to our services

AI develops fast, and our programs, software and learning materials develop with it. We may adjust, replace, update or expand components where we believe this contributes to quality, for example software, AI models, training, templates, workflows or tools. We always act with the intention to improve. You cannot derive permanent rights from the content of an earlier version.

ARTICLE 11

Digital products and withdrawal

Many of our programs contain digital products: video lessons, templates, prompts, AI agents, software, downloads, knowledge bases and implementation plans. Such digital content cannot be returned once delivered.

If you participate in AI Starter as a consumer, you have a statutory 14-day right of withdrawal. For digital content we ask you to expressly consent to immediate delivery; to the extent the law allows, the right of withdrawal lapses once that delivery has started with your consent. We explicitly ask for this consent during the ordering process.

ARTICLE 12

Workshops, retreats and live events

For live events we reserve venues, speakers, catering and other facilities. Additional cancellation conditions may therefore apply to workshops, retreats, VIP days and masterminds, which we communicate in advance. If you are unable to attend, we are happy to explore participation in a later edition where possible, but we are not obliged to do so.

ARTICLE 13

Support

Our guidance exists to move you forward, but we are not available without limit. The nature and scope of support depends on the chosen program. Additional guidance or custom work may be offered separately.

We answer questions as quickly as possible. Response time depends on your program and how busy our organization is; we cannot guarantee a fixed response time.

ARTICLE 14

First Client Guarantee

For some programs we offer a First Client Guarantee. It only applies where it is expressly part of the relevant program, and only where you demonstrably participate actively, invest at least the agreed time, complete assignments, follow up on feedback, ask for help in time when you get stuck, and genuinely give Remote Skills the opportunity to help.

The full conditions of this guarantee are provided separately with the relevant program.

ARTICLE 15

Partner program

Where we offer a partner or affiliate program, additional conditions apply. Participation does not grant exclusivity. We may end a partner relationship at any time where its continuation is no longer reasonably appropriate.

ARTICLE 16

Termination

We value a good collaboration. If it structurally no longer fits either party, we may decide to end it, for example where mutual trust is lacking, agreements are structurally not kept, there is inappropriate behavior, confidential information is shared, or intellectual property is misused. We always do so carefully and professionally. Outstanding financial obligations remain in place.

You may choose to leave a program early. Because we reserve capacity, plan guidance and grant access to digital systems, this does not in principle create a right to a refund of amounts already paid. Exceptions can only be agreed in writing. Statutory rights that cannot be contractually excluded for consumers remain unaffected.

ARTICLE 17

Intellectual property and license

We invest a great deal of time, knowledge and resources in our own methodologies, software, AI systems, training and solutions. All intellectual property rights in them remain with Remote Skills, unless we agree otherwise in writing. This includes our programs, learning materials, frameworks, software, AI solutions, AI agents, prompts and prompt libraries, GPTs, Claude projects, workflows, automations, templates, playbooks, dashboards, databases, videos, presentations, texts and designs, and our concepts and methodologies such as the FullStack Funnel Method, Website 2.0, Website 3.0, FullStack AI Studio, AI Employee and AI Studio in a Box.

Your license

Participation does not make you the owner of our materials. You receive a personal, limited and non-transferable license to apply the materials within your own business. The license does not grant the right to commercially exploit materials outside your own operations.

What you may do

Applying the knowledge is exactly the point. Everything you learn with us may be used within your own business, your own services, your own client work, your own marketing and your own AI solutions.

What you may not do

Without our prior written consent you may not copy, publish, sell, resell, license, rent out, distribute, disclose, incorporate into your own training or software product, or otherwise commercially exploit our materials, in whole or in part. This also applies to our AI systems, prompts, prompt libraries, Claude projects, GPTs, system prompts and automations, and to complete materials as well as substantial parts of them.

Your own work

Everything you develop yourself during your participation naturally remains yours: your texts, website, offer, content, brand, client data, funnels and ads. Where you use our software or templates, the underlying systems, frameworks and rights of course remain with Remote Skills.

ARTICLE 18

Confidentiality

During our collaboration you may gain access to non-public information: business processes, strategies, software, source materials, pricing models, internal documentation, AI systems, development plans and technical implementations. Handle this with care and do not share it with third parties without our prior written consent.

Where a separate non-disclosure agreement (NDA) or a non-compete or non-solicitation clause has been agreed, it remains fully in force alongside these terms. In case of conflict, the separate agreement prevails.

ARTICLE 19

Privacy and data

In performing our services we process personal data. How we do so, which data we process and which rights you have can be found in our Privacy Statement, which forms part of these terms. Where we process personal data on your behalf as a processor, we record this where necessary in a separate data processing agreement.

ARTICLE 20

Liability

We develop and maintain our programs, software and services as carefully as possible. Still, we cannot guarantee that everything is always error-free, uninterrupted or suitable for every specific situation.

Remote Skills is only liable for direct damage that is the direct result of demonstrable intent or willful recklessness on our part. To the extent the law allows, all other liability is excluded. Our total liability is in all cases limited to the amount you actually paid to Remote Skills in the three months preceding the event.

We are never liable for, among other things, lost revenue, lost profit, indirect damage, consequential damage, reputational damage, loss of data or clients, business interruption, decisions you make based on our information, or failures and errors of external suppliers.

These limitations do not apply to the extent that liability is mandatory under applicable law.

ARTICLE 21

Force majeure

Sometimes situations arise that no one can control: internet or power outages, cloud failures, failures at software or AI suppliers, government measures, pandemics, natural disasters, illness, war or cyber attacks. In case of force majeure we may temporarily suspend or adjust our services. If the force majeure lasts longer than sixty days, both parties may terminate the agreement without compensation.

ARTICLE 22

Changes to these terms

Our services continuously evolve, so we may amend these terms where necessary. In case of important changes we inform active participants in advance by email or via our platform. The most recent version is always available on our website. If a provision proves invalid, all other provisions remain fully in force and we will replace the provision concerned with one that approximates the original purpose as closely as possible.

ARTICLE 23

Governing law

All agreements with Remote Skills are governed by the law of the State of Florida (United States), unless mandatory law provides otherwise. If you are located in a country where certain consumer rights or other mandatory provisions apply, those provisions continue to apply to the extent they cannot be contractually excluded.

We prefer to resolve disputes in mutual consultation first. If that does not succeed, the dispute will be submitted to the competent court under the applicable law.

ARTICLE 24

Contact

Questions about these terms? Feel free to contact us.

Remote Skills, LLC
Email: info@remoteskills.nl
Website: www.remoteskills.nl

By participating in one of our programs or using our software, training or services, you confirm that you have read and agree to these terms and conditions.

We believe in clear agreements, so we can both focus on what really matters: building a successful AI business.