Additional Terms for 12-month Programmes (AI Founder Pro & AI Builder)

The additional ground rules for the 12-month programmes of Remote Skills (AI Founder Pro and AI Builder): how the instalments work, what happens if a payment fails, and what you may expect from us and from yourself.

Version 1.2 Last updated 26 October 2026

Changes

1.2, 26 October 2026: the programme name AI Founder Pro (on earlier pages AI Founder or the Implementation programme); these terms also apply if you take the programme through a quote; a failed payment follows the Additional Terms for Instalment Payment (version 1.1); new article 7: private sessions, 1-on-1 sessions and booked guidance are used within the term.

1.1, 29 September 2026: View version 1.1. All earlier versions are in the archive.

In short

A brief summary without legal status. The articles below prevail.

- AI Founder Pro and AI Builder are a 12-month commitment: you pay the monthly rate agreed at your order or in your quote × 12 months (including any premium period as stated on your order), or the total amount of your quote.
- We make everything available immediately: the instalments are a payment arrangement for the full amount, not a monthly subscription that you can stop along the way.
- If you miss an instalment and do not meet your obligation, the remaining amount becomes immediately due and additional costs may be charged (see the Additional Terms for Instalment Payment).
- Private sessions, 1-on-1 sessions and booked guidance are scheduled and used within the 12 months. After that the right to them lapses.

- After the 12 months you choose: continue monthly (cancel any month), move on to the next programme, or go your own way.
- Results depend on your own effort. Only do this if you can carry it financially and if you are really going to get to work with it.

ARTICLE 1

What these terms apply to

These additional terms apply to the 12-month programmes of Remote Skills: AI Founder Pro (the implementation programme; on earlier order pages, quotes and invoices "AI Founder" or "AI Founder: Implementation programme") and AI Builder (the maintenance, deepening and growth programme), both with a term of 12 months, also if you take the programme through a quote. They equally apply to the AI Founder OS software subscription with monthly payment (a 12-month commitment), to AI Founder Pro as an upgrade, at a personal rate or as the do it yourself option, to the Fullstack AI programme if your quote states a term of 12 months, and to continuing after the AI Founder Box monthly (on your own, with live Q&As or with personal guidance) for subscriptions started from 11 September 2026. They do not apply to AI Founder in a Box itself (three months). During the programme you get access to all modules, software tools, templates and working materials of the programme, plus the live coaching sessions that belong to your programme.

We deliberately choose to make everything available immediately, so all knowledge, tools and intellectual property, instead of releasing one module each month. That way you can work at your own pace, also when you are in a hurry. In return, your participation is a commitment for the entire programme.

ARTICLE 2

Payment and commitment

The investment for your programme amounts to the monthly rate agreed at your order × 12 months (including any premium period as stated on your order, unless a different rate was agreed in writing at registration), or the total amount and instalments as stated in your quote. With your registration you enter into a payment obligation for the full amount; the monthly instalments are a payment arrangement, not a cancellable subscription.

An honest word: only enter into this if you can carry the 12 instalments, also if earning it back goes slower than you hope. If you have doubts about that, do not start.

ARTICLE 3

If a payment fails

If you miss an instalment, we contact you first. If something is going on, do raise your hand straight away yourself as well, and we will look for a solution together.

If you subsequently do not meet your payment obligation, the following applies:

- the remaining amount of the programme becomes immediately due;
- additional costs may be charged: €40 administration costs per failed or reversed payment, the statutory interest and the extrajudicial collection costs, as set out in the Additional Terms for Instalment Payment (version 1.1);
- your access to the platform and the tools may be paused until the payment has been restored.

Nobody is waiting for this, we are not either. These agreements exist so that we can keep offering the programme affordably in instalments to people who do not want to or cannot pay in one go.

ARTICLE 4

Honest expectations

Every month we do our best to give you something you can build and earn back with. But the result depends to an important extent on your own effort. There is no income or results guarantee; see also our income disclaimer.

Nothing in this programme is financial advice. You decide for yourself, sensibly and fitting your situation, whether this investment suits you.

ARTICLE 5

Licence and intellectual property

During your participation you receive a personal right of use to the tools, templates, systems and materials of the programme, including the licence and resale rights that belong to the programme. The intellectual property remains with Remote Skills.

If the programme is terminated because you do not meet your payment obligation, the right of use lapses. The payment obligation under articles 2 and 3 continues to exist.

ARTICLE 6

After the 12 months

When the 12 months have ended, your commitment ends. You then choose what you do:

- Continue monthly. If you do nothing, your subscription continues at the monthly rate applicable at that time, and from that moment you can cancel any month. No new 12-month commitment starts.
- Move on to the next programme that suits you. We settle what is needed, so you never pay twice.
- Go your own way. Indicate in your account (Account, Subscription) or via info@remoteskills.nl that you want to stop. You can do this at any moment within the 12 months, including the last month; there is no notice period. Your programme then stops on the end date.

ARTICLE 7

Sessions are used within the term

Private sessions, 1-on-1 sessions and other booked guidance are scheduled and used within the term of the programme; after it ends the right to them lapses, unless agreed otherwise in writing. This also applies to the sessions that belong to your programme, such as the sessions of a premium sprint or a 1-on-1 track. So schedule them in time.

Sessions you did not use give no right to a refund or credit and do not extend the term. If we cannot hold a scheduled session, we reschedule it, if necessary also after the end date. The full rules are in article 16 of the terms and conditions.

ARTICLE 8

Other

In addition to these additional terms, the terms and conditions and the platform terms continue to apply in full, and for the payment arrangement also the Additional Terms for Instalment Payment. In the event of conflict, these additional terms prevail as regards the 12-month programmes AI Founder Pro and AI Builder.
