REMOTE SKILLS · PAYMENT ARRANGEMENTS

Additional Terms Instalment Payment

The additional ground rules for every payment arrangement with Remote Skills: paying in instalments, in monthly amounts or through a subscription with a fixed term, and quotes with a payment arrangement. What you agree to, how payment works, what happens if a payment fails and what happens after the term.

Version 1.1 Last updated 25 October 2026

Changes

1.1, 25 October 2026: applies to every payment arrangement (instalments, monthly amounts, subscriptions with a term and quotes with a payment arrangement). New: the total obligation for the term, collection, cancelling after the term and settlement when moving on.

1.0, 14 September 2026: first version, for the AI Founder Box (Premium) in three instalments. View version 1.0.

In short

Brief summary without legal status. The articles below are leading.

- A payment arrangement is an agreement on the full amount for the whole term, not a subscription you can stop halfway.
- Payments are charged automatically or you receive an invoice per instalment, as stated on your order or quote.
- If a payment fails or is reversed, we charge €40 each time and the remaining balance may become due in full.
- After the term an instalment arrangement stops by itself; a subscription with a term then continues month to month and can be cancelled monthly.
- If you move on to another programme or a higher level, we settle what is needed, so you never pay twice.

- Your payment obligation is independent of your results. Results depend on your own effort; we deliver everything that was agreed.

ARTICLE 1

What these terms apply to

These additional terms apply to every payment arrangement with Remote Skills, so every time you do not pay for a programme, package, licence or service at once in advance but spread over an agreed period. These include in any case:

- Instalments: a fixed number of payments for a fixed total amount, for example the AI Founder Box or the AI Founder Box Premium in three instalments, or a personal programme in two instalments.
- Monthly amounts and subscriptions with a term: a monthly (or annual) amount with an agreed term, for example AI Founder per month, AI Builder, the AI Founder OS and continuing after the Box per month, including the variants with a premium period.
- Quotes with a payment arrangement: a quote stating that you pay in instalments, per invoice or through automatic charges.

They do not apply to a payment at once, nor to a monthly subscription without a term that you can cancel every month.

These terms apply alongside the general terms and the platform terms. In case of conflict these additional terms prevail over the general terms, insofar as the payment arrangement is concerned. For the twelve-month programmes the Additional terms for 12-month programmes also apply; where those regulate something more specific about such a programme, that prevails.

We do not offer instalments as standard for a product that is normally paid at once. It is an accommodation, and the rules below exist to keep it neat and predictable for both sides.

ARTICLE 2

Your total obligation for the term

With your order or your signature on the quote you enter into a payment obligation for the full agreed amount over the whole term. That is:

- with instalments: the number of instalments × the instalment amount;

- with a monthly amount or subscription with a term: the monthly amount × the number of months of the term (usually twelve), plus any one-off start fee, and with a variant with a premium period the amounts per period as stated on your order;
- with a quote: the total and the instalments as stated on the quote.

The amounts, the number of instalments and the term are stated on your order page, in your confirmation or on your quote. Nothing is added on top as long as every payment is made.

A payment arrangement is not a monthly subscription you can stop halfway. You cannot cancel or stop the arrangement in between; you can pay the remaining balance at once at any time, after which nothing further is charged for that arrangement.

> An honest word: only enter into this if you can carry all payments, also if earning it back goes slower than you hope. If you doubt that, do not choose a payment arrangement.

ARTICLE 3

How payment works

With an order through the website the instalments or monthly amounts are charged automatically through the payment method you choose at checkout (for example credit card or SEPA direct debit), each time on the same day of the month as your first payment, or per year with an annual variant. With your order you authorise those automatic charges during the term. Payments run through our payment processor; we do not see or store your full card details.

With a quote you pay as stated on the quote: per invoice by bank transfer, or through automatic charges if that was agreed. You receive each invoice well before the due date.

When an instalment arrangement has ended, the charges stop by themselves. What happens after the term of a subscription is set out in article 6.

ARTICLE 4

Surcharge with instalments

Paying in instalments means extra work and risk for us. If the sum of the instalments is higher than the price when paying at once, the instalment amount includes a surcharge for administration, interest and debtor management. The instalment amount and the total are stated on your order, in your confirmation or on your quote; nothing is added on top as long as every instalment is paid.

ARTICLE 5

If a payment fails

If a charge fails or a payment is reversed, we retry the charge and notify you. If an invoice is not paid on time, you receive a reminder. For every failed or reversed payment we charge €40 administration costs.

If a payment remains unpaid after a reminder, we may pause access to the programme and its components until payment is made. If you do not meet your payment obligation, the full remaining balance of the term becomes due at once, plus statutory interest and extrajudicial collection costs according to the statutory scale. This obligation remains, also if you no longer use the programme.

ARTICLE 6

After the term and cancelling

Instalments stop by themselves after the last instalment. Nothing renews and you do not need to cancel anything.

A subscription with a term continues month to month after the term at the monthly amount that applies then, unless you indicate that you stop. You can do that at any time within the term, in your account (Account, Subscription) or via info@remoteskills.nl; there is no notice period and your programme then stops on the end date. If it continues month to month after the term, you can cancel every month and no new commitment starts. With an annual variant you indicate before the next annual payment that you stop; if you do nothing, it renews for another year.

A quote with a payment arrangement ends after the last instalment on the quote, unless the quote says otherwise.

Cancelling within the term does not end the payment obligation for that term (article 2).

ARTICLE 7

Settlement when moving on

If you move on to another programme or a higher level during a running payment arrangement, we settle what is needed, so you never pay twice. How the settlement works out is stated on the order page or in the quote for the new programme. If you choose a new programme or a higher level and pay for it in instalments, a new term of twelve months starts for it (see the general terms).

If you do not want to wait with an instalment arrangement, you can pay the remaining balance at once at any time; the running charges then stop.

ARTICLE 8

Payment is independent of results

We deliver everything that belongs to the programme: the knowledge, the tools, the guidance and the components as stated on your order or quote. The results you achieve depend on your own effort. There is no income or results guarantee, unless a guarantee explicitly belongs to your programme; for such a guarantee the terms of that programme apply, including your own effort obligation.

Your payment obligation is therefore not dependent on the results you achieve, on how much of the programme you use, or on when you start.

ARTICLE 9

Components released per instalment

Some components of a programme are tied to your payment rhythm. With the AI Founder Box and the AI Founder Box Premium in instalments, the twelve white label bestsellers are released per paid instalment: four with the first, eight with the second and all twelve, with full licence rights, with the third. The rest of the programme (the academy, the platform, the software and, with Premium, the guidance and the live sessions) opens right after the first instalment.

If a similar link applies to another programme, it is stated on the order page or in the quote. If you pay the remaining balance at once, everything is released immediately.

ARTICLE 10

Licence and intellectual property

You receive a personal right of use to the components released to you, including the licence and resale rights that belong to the programme. That right of use lapses as soon as the payment arrangement is terminated for non-performance; the payment obligation under articles 2 and 5 continues to exist.

ARTICLE 11

Recording your agreement

You agree to these terms by ticking the box at checkout or when signing your quote. Without that tick you cannot enter into a payment arrangement. We record your agreement with the version of this document, the date and time, and a digital fingerprint (sha256) of exactly this text. In your account you can always download the version you agreed to; all earlier versions are in the archive.

ARTICLE 12

Other

In addition to these additional terms, the terms and conditions, the platform terms, the Additional terms for 12-month programmes (for those programmes) and the refund policy continue to apply.

Questions? Email info@remoteskills.nl. We are happy to think along with you.

Remote Skills · Additional Terms Instalment Payment, version 1.1, 25 October 2026.